

FLARE
Power to Ambush

BUSHWHACKER

Wild: As offensive player, you may point the cone at any base of the player whose color was revealed, not necessarily in his home system.

ONE-SHOT FLARE

FLARE
Power of Inevitability

ENTROPY

Wild: As a main player in a challenge, you may disorder your opponent's tokens in his home system by redistributing them among his bases in his home system before the cone is pointed. You must leave at least one token on each of the player's bases.

Super: You may add your points divided by 10 (round down) to your side's total as an ally.

ONE-SHOT FLARE

LEECH

Wild: You may take a card at random from each other player's regular hand and discard them along with this card.

Super: When you leech, your opponent must put a token in the Warp and give you two cards of your choice from those you could normally take. If he doesn't have a card of a particular type, he still gives you the other.

ONE-SHOT FLARE

FLARE

BUSYBODY

ONE-SHOT FLARE

FLARE
Power to Condition

PAVLOV

Wild: As a main player in a challenge, before cards are played, you may name a Challenge Card (Compromise or specific Attack Card). If your opponent reveals such a card, after the challenge is resolved he receives a reward of three tokens from the Warp or three cards from the deck.

Super: Your punishment for disobedience is four tokens from bases to the Warp; you select the tokens.

ONE-SHOT FLARE

FLARE
Power to Store and Release

CAPACITOR

Wild: As a main player, if both sides play Attack Cards, you may draw one card from the deck for every 10 points (or fraction thereof) that their final totals differ by. Thus if their totals differ by 7, you may draw one card; if they differ by 22, you may draw three.

Super: When you release, you do not have to decrease your charge.

ONE-SHOT FLARE

FLARE
Power to Bind

ONE-SHOT FLARE

FLARE
Power to Protract

PROLONG

Wild: You may reveal this card whenever a player gets his last base needed to win the game. Then, until the Challenge Deck is reshuffled, the number of outer bases needed to win is increased by one for all players.

FLARE
Power of Disarmament

Super: When you call disarm, you may name any number up to the number of Attack Cards you have. You and your opponent must then discard that many Attack Cards if possible; your opponent discards his highest Attack Cards and you discard any Attack Cards you choose.
